Big Demonstration is Staged at Dayton Honoring Ohio Governor as Delegation Assembles.

Scores of Autos Carrying Women Feature of Big Parade

Leaders Say McAdoo Withdrawal Clinches Cox's Nomination.

(By Associated Press)

Dayton, O., June 19.—Dayton citizens and Ohio democrats joined today in a community demonstration for Governor James M. Cox, Ohio's favorite son candidate for the democratic nomination for president.

The demonstration was a prelude to the departure of Ohio's delegation to the San Francisco convention, every one of whom is pledged to vote for the governor.

Several thousand admirers of Governor Cox made the pilgrimage to "Trail's End," the suburban home of the governor, following a parade of political organizations through the business section of the city this afternoon. Participating in the parade and demonstrations were delegations from Cincinnati and Columbus.

A feature of the parade was several score autos carrying women and driven exclusively by women.

At the governor's home addresses were made by Senator Pomeroy and former Governor James E. Campbell and William G. Pickrel, candidate for the democratic nomination for congress in the Dayton district.

Governor Cox responded by wishing the delegation a happy journey.

Members of the Ohio delegation and other democratic leaders expressed gratification over the announcement that McAdoo was not a candidate and that his name would not be presented to the convention.

They declare McAdoo's elimination practically clinches the nomination of Governor Cox.

MYSTERY OF KIDNAPPING OF BABY FROM CRIB STILL UNSOLVED

Norristown, Pa., police, private detectives and state constabulary have failed so far to uncover any clue that will reveal the hiding place of the abductors of Blakely Coughlin. The thirteen-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Coughlin of Norristown was stolen from his crib on the second floor of the Coughlin home at about 2 a. m., June 2. A ladder was used by the kidnappers to reach the window. The boy's parents say they have no enemies.

(By Associated Press)

Columbus, O., June 19.—This year's G. A. R. encampment is practically certain not to be held in Atlantic City, according to Captain D. M. Hall of Columbus, national commander-in-chief.

It is said that the decision to withdraw the encampment from Atlantic City is because of excessive rates demanded by hotels in that city. Several Ohio cities, including Toledo and Columbus, have made bids for the convention but Colorado Springs, Colorado, is being mentioned as the likely place for the encampment.

The arrest came as a complete surprise at the store and officials there at first stated that there must have been an error.

Troops Armed with Machine Guns and Rifles with Orders to Shoot to Kill.

(By Associated Press)

Duluth, Minn., June 19.—National guardsmen from the state encampment of Ft. Snelling arrived here early today to reinforce the guard about the St. Louis county jail, where fourteen negroes are being held in connection with an attack upon a young white girl.

The soldiers are armed with machine guns and rifles and have orders to "shoot to kill if necessary to uphold the law."

The request for the troops was made last night by Sheriff Magle of St. Louis county to Governor Burnquist at St. Paul.

The sheriff declared he had information that an organized attack was to be made tonight on the county jail in an effort to lynch the negroes.

The 191 guardsmen are under command of Adjutant General W. F. Rhinow and four other officers.

Duluth early today was quiet. Officials declared they were confident the presence of the guardsmen would serve to aid in thwarting any plot to raid the jail.

M'ADOO'S NAME IS WITHDRAWN

(By Associated Press)

New York, June 18.—William G. McAdoo, who has been considered by party leaders as one of the principal candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination, announced today he could not permit his name to go before the San Francisco convention.

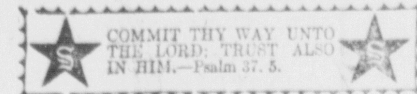

"This decision," he said, "is irrevocable, as as the path of duty seems to me clear and unmistakable."

His decision was made known in a telegram to Jouett Shouse, Democratic delegate at large from Kansas who had telegraphed Mr. McAdoo that sentiment throughout the country was rapidly crystallizing in his favor, that his friends would like to have him permit his name to be presented to the convention and that they were certain he would be nominated and elected.

San Francisco, June 18.—Announcement by William G. McAdoo that he could not permit his name to be put before the Democratic convention divided interests here today with the arrival of leaders of the Governor Cox faction and a declaration by Mrs. Abby Scott Baker, of the National Woman's Party:

"Our party will demand that the Democrats give up the 36th state," Mrs. Baker said; in other words, that they use all their influence to add the one ratification by state legislature of the national suffrage amendment to the constitution necessary to make suffrage a national law.

COMMITTEE TO RECOMMEND 55 CENT GAS RATE

As result of negotiations between the Civic Committee, recently authorized to take up with the Washington Gas and Electric Company the question of electric and gas rates with a view to making amicable adjustment and having all litigation brought to an end, the Service Committee is now ready to make recommendations that Council pass the original electric light and power rate ordinance fixing the gas rate at 55 cents per 1,000 cubic feet net.

This announcement is made by Chairman Henry Brownell of the Service Committee, and represents the best possible agreement that the committee has been able to reach in the negotiations with The Washington Gas and Electric Company, and will make material reductions in the gas rates, if accepted by council, as there is reason to believe the case will be.

It is expected that the report will be submitted at the next session of council, which probably will be held within a few days, and that the long litigation over the rates will be brought to an end.

The original proposal of the committee was that the electric and power ordinance be passed as previously submitted, and which makes substantial increases in the rates, and that the gas rate be reduced to 50 cents. This was not acceptable to the company, however, and the 55 cent rate recommendation of the committee is the result.

WASHINGTON PLAYS WILMINGTON SUNDAY

According to reports from Wilmington that city is worked up in baseball frenzy for the game Sunday afternoon at North End park with Washington Athletics. It has usually happened that the first game of the season between these two enemies has been staged in this city but the tornado last Sunday evening put an end to all local hopes when the grandstand at Sunnyside park was almost demolished.

There is going to be quite a large delegation of fans accompany the team to the neighboring county seat and the Athletics management promises that they will not have to slump in their seats in the grandstand.

CHARITIES ARE ON INCREASE

(By Associated Press)

London. (By Mail)—The cost of British charities has increased 1,000 percent in the last 20 years despite the enormous expenditure on insurance, unemployment, old age pensions and various other forms of public assistance. J. R. Marriott, member of Parliament, has told the Charity Organization Society that he estimated the present charity total at 250,000,000 pounds for the year as compared to 25,000,000 pounds 20 years ago.

"We are manufacturing pauperism at an appalling rate," says Mr. Marriott.

Will Win For You

"Here is a tire you can trust—a better tire than any other manufacturer has ever built," Barney Oldfield told Gaston Chevrolet before the Indianapolis 500-mile race.

Gaston Chevrolet trusted Barney Oldfield.

So he chose Oldfield Tires, and became the first driver in history to win this, the world's greatest race without a tire change.

In his 500-mile flight over the rough bricks at 88.55 miles an hour, Gaston Chevrolet's tires resisted a degree of wear fully equal to that of 20,000 miles of ordinary running. Yet they finished in condition for many more miles of cruel competition.

Cole Aero-EIGHT

BALANCED TO ZERO

What vests the Aero-EIGHT with its unusual range of performance and enables it to operate with uniform efficiency and economy throughout its entire speed scope?

Those who have experienced the thrill of traveling in the air realize instantly why the Aero-EIGHT is so versatile.

Its working parts are synchronized. It never labors, never strains. Its operation is smooth, silent, vibrationless. For the Aero-EIGHT is balanced to zero. The sensation of speed is cut in half. Traveling at 60 miles an hour seems like 30; 40 like 20 and at less it moves so evenly and quietly that one is hardly cognizant of its motion at all.

There's a peculiar fascination about the manner in which the Aero-EIGHT performs which is attributable to its peculiar balance.

Stock Dividends

Large stock dividends by corporations to dispose of accumulated profits, obtained during the war periods, have been numerous since the supreme court decree exempting stock dividends from the provisions of the income tax law.

There are hundreds of stock dividends declared which escape the public attention entirely, others escape with but little more than a passing attention and a third class, which on account of the tremendous dividend declared or the character of business in which the corporation is engaged, arouse grave fears for the future of business generally and for the particular business which has declared a large stock dividend.

The International Harvester Company is one of the latest of the big corporations, with the affairs of which the people generally are vitally concerned, to announce a big stock dividend. The Harvester company has declared a common stock dividend of $30,000,000.

That means that the company must earn in the future enough to pay dividends on the increased stock as well as on its present capitalization. Not much chance for reduction of prices because the stock dividend is based on present earnings.

Not only that. These stock increases mean that the disastrous experiences resulting from the capitalization of the railroads is to be repeated in manufacturing enterprises concerned in the production of necessities.

The great trouble with the railroads today—their breakdown—is attributable, almost wholly to over-capitalization. Too much outstanding stock, issued at a time when earnings were larger than they now are. The public must pay exorbitant rates for transportation and still the roads cannot get enough to keep up road-beds and equipment because dividends on "watered stock" must be paid.

Belgium Coming Back

We heard, perhaps, more about Belgium's sufferings in the world war than we did about those of any other nation involved in the maelstrom.

Later developments—the speed with which Belgium smallest among the European nations in the war, has come back—have so amazed the world that, searching for reasons for Belgium's remarkable and speedy recovery, some heretofore not understood facts are disclosed for the first time.

Belgium, it is stated, lost only one man in twenty during the war, while France lost one in four, and Great Britain one in five, and owing to the almost complete occupancy by the German troops, suffered comparatively little property damage. Her commercial and industrial cities were preserved and the rural districts cultivated by German troops and Belgian peasants under German control.

In addition to all that the national debt arising in the wake of war is small. Belgium's government decamped and had no property upon which to raise large sums for war.

The Belgians were driven from home and, in a sense, imprisoned during the war. They were so over-joyed to be released from prison and to be able to return home that they were content to take up the work of life in the old haunts in the old way. Their happiness was complete and they slipped automatically into the old life.

The people of other nations worked at home and at top speed during the war and they unconsciously looked forward to the coming of peace as certain to bring a respite from work and have acted accordingly. The difference in the results of the coming of peace in Belgium and in other nations testifies to the importance of the mental state of peoples.

The spectacular invasion of neutral Belgium and the terror of the inhabitants driven from home and native land doubtless caused is to magnify Belgium's calamity.

Calm after the war surveys give a brighter hue to Belgium's picture.

POETRY FOR TODAY

TO CHILDREN

O children of the city streets,
O children of the town,
Would I could bring you all to me
To race o'er wood and down;
We'd search the caps, for furry fists,
Of the Lady-fern's first born,
And hear the robin's evening song
At dusk on the dewy lawn.

The fields are full of treasures rare,
The sky a vault of blue,
What matters mud in narrow lanes
To dauntless folk like you?
You should know all the lovely spells
The fresh-blown violets weave,
And learn where pink arbutus peeps
From nests of last year's leaves.

At night when dark came slowly down
And all the world grew still,
We'd hear the chorus of the frogs
Down by the fairies' rill;
And if you all were very good,
When a great moon rose all red,
Maybe you'd see the Wee Folks dance,
Before you went to bed!

HAGUE TRIBUNAL OR LEAGUE IS THE MAIN ISSUE

Root in Europe Chiefly to Revive Peace Court

Spirit of Plank in Republican Platform Has That End in View.

BY MARK SULLIVAN
(Copyright 1920)

Cheyenne, Wyo., (enroute to San Francisco), June 16.—A cablegram from The Hague quotes Mr. Root as saying "he had not even seen the League of Nations plank attributed to his authorship."

This merely means, of course, that he has not seen the plank since it was adopted. Stated chronologically, the facts about the League of Nations plank in the Republican platform are these:

Some weeks ago the Republican chairman, Will Hays, became concerned about the hostility between the two factions of the Republican party as to what ground the convention should take in respect to the League of Nations. Recognizing the necessity of bringing the two factions together in advance of the convention if possible, Mr. Hays went to Washington and told the two groups of Senators concerned that they must agree. The two groups of Senators did come together in a loose way, but they never really agreed.

Out of their conference came what is known as the "Indiana Platform," which attempted to solve the difficulty by making a blanket under which all the Senators could lie and each of them find some comfort, but party leaders outside of the Senate recognized that the Republican platform must say something affirmative about our international relations.

Turned to Elihu Root

Realizing that it was a futile attempt to make a Senatorial faction come to an agreement, Chairman Hays turned to look for some authoritative person who could solve the difficulty. He turned to Mr. Root, because, as everybody knows, Mr. Root has had his mind on the League of Nations from the very beginning and had been the first to suggest reservations needed from the American point of view, which suggestions were cabled to Paris while the Peace Conference was still in session. Chairman Hays asked Mr. Root to write a draft of a League of Nations plank for the Republican platform.

Mr. Root requested and received from Chairman Hays a statement of the several positions of various Senatorial factions opposed to the League. Out of this clamor gathering of negotiations, and also out of his own affirmative beliefs as to what ought to be done and what could be done in an affirmative way, Mr. Root undertook to prepare a draft. He had one conference of some four hours with Chairman Hays and another of five hours with Col. George Harvey. In the end he prepared a draft which he gave to Chairman Hays.

Chairman Hays sent Ogden Mills, who has been a kind of unofficial assistant to him in all matters affecting the platform, to Washington, where Mr. Root says Mr. Mills showed it to Senator Lodge. Senator Lodge treated it lightly and ignored it. Thereafter the matter was in abeyance, until the Republican leaders began to gather at Chicago for the convention.

At the convention two Senators, Kellogg of Minnesota and Lenroot of Wisconsin, took up the work of writing a wholly new plank.

Not Due to Borah Threat

In this work they were pressed from one side by Murray Crane of Massachusetts, who wanted an endorsement of the League of Nations with proper reservations, and from the other side by Senators Johnson and Borah, who demanded a repudiation of the League of Nations. While this snarl was on three days before the convention met, Col. Harvey came to Chicago with Chairman Hays. Col. Harvey, of course, was familiar with the Root draft, having helped Mr. Root formulate it.

Taking the Root draft as a basis, Col. Harvey wrote a plank on which all the factions were willing to compromise except the faction which demanded ratification with proper reservations. This faction never was satisfied and in the end accepted defeat. Parenthetically, the reason Mr. Crane and his pro-leaguers accepted defeat was not Borah's threat to bolt the party. That threat Mr. Crane ignored. But when Senator Brandegee of Connecticut threatened to go home and call a State convention and say that he would retire to private life rather than run again for the Senate on a pro-League platform, that threat from Connecticut brought Mr. Crane to terms.

Rebellion by Borah in Idaho was one thing, but rebellion in Connecticut was quite another matter.

Root Draft Adopted

The basis of compromise was Col. Harvey's variation of Senator Root's draft. On the final day, however, the changes which Col. Harvey had made were eliminated and the original Root draft was adopted without any important change.

Your correspondent is informed by one who is familiar with the whole process from the beginning that the differences between the Root draft and the plank as it stands today are negligible.

It is important that the country understand this, not merely as a matter of having a correct knowledge of contemporary history, which is of the greatest potentiality. It is even more important because of the fact that Mr. Root is today in such a position that the future international policy of the United States is between a league of nations and something utterly different from the League of Nations is almost certain to be determined by him and to be determined in a direction running counter to the League of Nations.

Mr. Root is the author of the League of Nations plank in the platform of the party which he expects will be in power in the United States. He is also now at The Hague at the request of the League of Nations to help them organize an international court. But in addition to these two roles he has a third not so widely recalled.

Senator Root was formerly president of The Hague Tribunal. At the time the tribunal was interrupted by the war Mr. Root was no longer president, but he did happen to have an official relation to the court too technical and complicated to be set down here, but of such an importance that he, more than any one other man, has it in his power to revive The Hague Tribunal, which the League of Nations purports to supplant.

Without going into further details, it may be said that one of the purposes of Mr. Root's trip abroad is to take down the shutters of The Hague Tribunal, which have been closed since 1914, and to assert the continued existence and initiate the renewed activity of that court.

The spirit of the Republican platform, it will be observed, tends toward the revival and perfecting of The Hague Tribunal to the exclusion of the League of Nations, whereas the spirit of the League of Nations is to create a superstate with a court of its own and to throw the old Hague Tribunal into the scrap heap. The Republican purpose is to revive The Hague Tribunal, perfect and endow it with added vitality and agencies.

The Democratic purpose, assuming that the Democrats endorse Mr. Wilson's position, is to supplant The Hague Tribunal with a League of Nations.

The Democratic purpose is to scrap The Hague Tribunal. The Republican purpose is to scrap the League of Nations. Within the limitations essential to stating a complex thing briefly and briefly, that is the situation.

At three o'clock Friday afternoon, June the eighteenth, Camp Sherman celebrated the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Smyth Glenn, daughter of Major General E. F. Glenn, U. S. A., retired, and former commandant of Camp Sherman, and Harold Russell Tyler, of Waterville, N. Y., a former captain and aid to General Glenn when the latter commanded the 83rd Division. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Allyn Hall, Sweetley, Pa. former 83rd Division chaplain, in the community chapel at the camp.

Miss Rae Buckley, of New York was maid of honor and Mrs. James A. Garfield, a sister of the bride, matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Floy Barnhart of Leavenworth, Kan., and Miss Juanita Tyler, of Waterville, N. Y. Harry Canby, of New York was best man and Lieutenant L. W. Eggers, assistant camp adjutant, and James Otto of Buffalo were ushers. Fifty former officers of the 83rd Division attended the ceremony, which was not a military wedding.

The interior of the chapel was tastefully decorated with daisies, peonies and wild flowers. The 10th Inf. Band rendered fitting music for the occasion.

Following the ceremony the bride and bridegroom left for an extended honeymoon trip through the East after which they will make their home at Waterville, N. Y.

Friends in this city will be pleased to learn of the wedding Tuesday at Ashville at the minister's residence, of Mr. Gilbert Charles Smith, of 270 East Fifth street, to Miss Bernice Duval, of Duval. The ceremony was performed Tuesday noon, the bride wearing a dark blue traveling suit. The attendants were Miss Gladys Vause, a cousin of the bride, and her brother, Benjamin Duval. A wedding dinner at the home of the bride followed, after which Mr. and Mrs. Smith came to this city, and took the train for Chicago, Detroit, Buffalo for a 15 day's honeymoon. They will be at home to their friends at 70 East Second street after September 1st.

The Annual Commencement Dance, which is always an event in the younger society circles and especially to the members of the graduating class was held Friday night in the K. of P. Castle with almost four score couples in attendance, the greater number of whom were from out of town.

Brilliantly achieved by the Charvris Club, from whose unlimited auspices several most successful affairs have been carried out, and in whose coterie of program there is a spirit that tends to embody youthfulness and freshness in every feature. The decorations formed not one of the least pleasing attractions and consisted of long streamers of Gold and Blue, the colors of the 1920 Graduates of Washington High School, looped in low-hanging effect to the wall from the chandelier in the center. Japanese lanterns of gaudy hue lent a radiance of beauty.

A few minutes before ten o'clock the Grand March, led by Miss Helen McKee and Mr. Charles Fabb, was under way, with the dancers spurred on by the music of Hunley's four piece orchestra, of Springfield. Programs lent an air of dignity but there was no air of formality.

Youth and beauty are inseparable companions and they were not to be denied in the charm that was given by the girls who certainly never appeared to better advantage.

Refreshments were served in the dining room on the lower floor and here was a popular gathering place between dances.

Among those towns contributing many couples for the affair were Wilmington, Springfield, Xenia, London, and Mt. Sterling.

Mrs. D. G. Waters, of the Creek road gave a very pretty party Friday afternoon, honoring the ninth birthday of her attractive young daughter, Chloe.

The guests, who were confined to a dozen playmates of the honor guest, spent a happy afternoon together playing games on the lawn.

Later, they were invited to the dining room, where tempting refreshments were served, and a red and white color scheme effectively carried out in the use of crimson rambles.

A large birthday cake with nine candles was the central decoration of the table.

There is but one milk sold to the public in Washington that is pasteurized, and that is the milk our drivers deliver.

We maintain a plant worthy of any community and as stated before our methods work ENTIRELY to the advantage of the consumer. Our first thought is SAFETY, and that's the only reason we pasteurize our milk. It does not benefit us, only by the knowledge that we are serving humanity as we should—protecting the health of the community.

But pasteurization does benefit the consumer. It assures purity the year 'round and in hot weather assures milk of keeping qualities, because the bacteria which make milk spoil quickly is reduced to a minimum. Think it over. It's cool now, but hot days WILL come.

Lydia E. For forty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who now are free from suffering by its use.

SERVING WITH U. S. RED CROSS AMONG RUSSIANS

Sufferings of Belgium and France Nothing Compared With Russia Under Bolshevik Rule, He Says.

Typhus Rages Among Defenseless and Starving Peoples Of Russia.

Letters received by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Martin, 235 North Fayette street, from their son, Leroy W. Martin, tell that he is with the American Red Cross in Russia, located at Leban, Latvia, in the western part of the country.

Martin will be remembered as the young English Army officer who came to his home in this city last spring a year ago after serving three years on the western front where he was wounded five times.

Last August, finding life too tame in Fayette county, he again left in the search of adventure and sailed for Europe where he became engaged in Red Cross work. He was later sent to Western Russia where he spent the winter in aiding the suffering peasants.

In his letters Martin states that the suffering of France and Belgium in the battle scared region is nothing compared with the agonies of ruin that have been the outcome of war in that country. He declared that every morning the Red Cross workers find the starving peasants lined up in droves for their regular allowance of foodstuffs. Typhus rages and there is no stopping the disease until it has run itself out on the defenseless people.

Manufacturing is at a standstill in the cities and the farmers raise barely enough to keep their own bodies and souls together. Russia is completely paralyzed, he states, and the people need outside assistance more than ever before. Russia must be sympathized with rather than criticized he insists.

GIRL WANTED AT LARRIMER LAUNDRY AT ONCE

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Says nothing like plain Argo-Phosphate to put firm, solid, stay there flesh and muscle and increased strength, vim, vigor and nerve force

Physicians claim there is nothing that will increase weight, strength and endurance like organic phosphate commonly known by druggists as argo-phosphate; it is inexpensive and is sold by all leading druggists everywhere under a guarantee to give satisfaction or money refunded. Weakness and thinness are usually due to starved nervous conditions.

Our bodies need more phosphates than are contained in the foods we eat.

If you wish a more rounded figure and plump well-developed arms, neck and bust in place of hollows you should simply take plain argo-phosphate as it builds up and restores run-down nervous conditions by phosphatizing the system. It transforms the appearance and an increase in weight is often times quickly produced.

The increase in weight also aids in improving the general health. Sleeplessness, nervousness, lack of energy and ambition quickly disappear.

Pale cheeks are changed to rosy ones and dull eyes become bright.

Miss Lena Brown of Atlanta, Ga., who only weighed 90 pounds reports that she gained 10 pounds in two weeks time and says argo-phosphate has made a different person of her and she has never felt better in her life.

SPECIAL NOTICE:—Owing to the fact that so many physicians and druggists are recommending argo-phosphate for relieving all nervous, worn-out debilitated conditions and the unusually large sale for argo-phosphate there will be found in the market numerous substitutes for the genuine article. All imitations are inferior preparations and owing to its unusual flesh producing qualities it should not be used by anyone unless they desire to put on flesh and increase in weight. Dispensed by Frank Christopher. advt.

Think It Over

450,000,000 Eggs laid Annually by Petaluma Hens are worth Approximately $14,000,000.

Petaluma is called the world's largest Egg Basket.

It's just a little town of 600 but it's the richest city per capita in the world. Poultry alone made Petaluma.

Poultry can be raised just as well in Fayette County

Give it a thought.

FAIRFIELD AND OSBORN AT WAR

Fairfield and Osborn, adjacent to the Wright Aviation field are still engaged in war, the war being declared when Fairfield extended her corporation line to include the village of Osborn site and thus eliminate the little town that has announced to the world that it will not be eliminated.

Osborn is the town that must move on account of the Miami Valley Conservancy plan which would result in the town being flooded.

Osborn asks the privilege of annexing 267 acres belonging to The Miami Conservancy District, south east of the town and running up with in 400 feet of the corporation line of Fairfield.

Fairfield wants to annex 109.6 acres, running wedge like into the territory sought by Osborn. Part of this is land owned by the Miami Conservancy and other portions belonging to Lewis Miller, Daniel Lang, Edwin Richman and Charles Brown.

LANDS BIG FISH

Tuesday morning A. N. Lytle cast a mean line into the swirling pool just below Monroe Falls when something grabbed the mess of "soft Craws" on the hook and started across the deep.

SOME FOLKS

Still cling to the idea that to have their washing done at the laundry is an extravagance. Nothing could be more erroneous.

OTHER FOLKS

have learned from actual experience that if they send their washing to the Larimer Laundry they save quite a considerable—in money as well as in labor. The weather is hot, don't wash at home.

BIG LAND DEAL 1200 ACRES SELL

Mr. Purcell gets over 200 acres, being the portion west of the Plymouth pike, and George and Truiston Waddell take the remainder the price being around $200 per acre for the entire tract and the transaction aggregating over a quarter of a million dollars.
